

An Agility challenge for 2019 that might get you or your dog wet!

The Animal Health Company is delighted to announce that

The Animal Health Company Classic Final 2019 will held at

Moreton Morrell College,
Equine Centre, Moreton Morrell,
Warwick, CV35 9BL

on Saturday 14 December 2019

kindly judged by well known Agility judge Angelo (Doc) Docherty

As many will know this is also the venue for the Rugby DTC Christmas Show and we hope that the combination will make a winning destination for all finalists.

Huge congratulations to all the finalists and invitations to the final will be sent shortly

Animal Health Company's Sales Manager Jennie Westcott said " We are delighted to join such an established Agility club and with Christmas just around the corner a share of over £100 prize money will help you celebrate in style".

The Animal Health Company offers a range of products that will be ideal for the Agility dog including their new food, Westcotts. Unique to the market it contains HyperCoat Prime our popular supplement. Westcotts it is formulated with high levels of chicken and rice, is hypoallergenic, pro biotic and has no added flavourings or preservatives produced from quality ingredients helping dogs with a sensitive palate. The Animal Health Company website <http://www.animal-health.co.uk> has all the details.

The Animal Health Company wishes everyone a successful 2019 final
